Today was supposed to be my day off however, I spent the day “computing” or helping other folks with their computers. Like last week, I just didn’t feel like writing at the end of the day so consequently, I didn’t.

This is being written near the end of the day on Saturday, after another busy day of “not working(?)”. Anyway, I had no time for pics so I am putting some recent shots of Monet that Karley emailed me. Right now she looks very much like her paternal grandmother, aka Nana or Becky MacLachlan. She has just started to enjoy the jolly jumper like her big “bro” did when he was her age.
